Crystallized Knowledge

Distilled from the essence of the Elemental Chaos, this small crystal contains a sliver of the knowledge bound to the elemental planes and to Raia itself. At any time, you may engage in a personal ritual to access the knowledge bound in the crystal. Doing so consumes 15 TU, as you meditate over the crystal and receive its knowledge in a series of vivid dreams. When the process is complete, you gain the listed number of experience points, based on the original potential of the crystal, filtered through your own experiences.

Once the ritual is complete, you also receive a permanent +1 non-typed bonus to the Knowledge (planes) skill, but you still cannot exceed a DC 10 unless you have at least 1 rank in the skill.

The GM will fill in your current level on the date you earned this cert. Note that the base potential of the crystal is determined by the ATL you played at, but its total power is determined by your level when you earned it. Once set, the amount of XP the crystal will grant does not change, but you do not add that XP to your total until you spend the 15 TU and void this cert in order to complete the ritual.
