Checkmate, Metamorphic Shield

(shield)

Made from Mithral, the Metamorphic Shield has the ability to take the form of any type of shield (Buckler, Light, Heavy, Tower) chosen by the wielder applying all applicable modifiers to the wielder based on its chosen form. This form can be changed by the wielder as a standard action and the shield will remain in its current form indefinitely or until it is again changed by the wielder.

In the hands of a follower of Galvandt, at ATLs 3+ this shield grants the wielder the ability to cast shield of faith once per day as a swift action. The shield's benefits and value vary based upon ATL as shown below:

- ATL 1-5: +1 (CL 3; Value: 7,030 gp)

Recipe for Dwarven Oatmeal Stout

This recipe contains detailed instructions for brewing an excellent quality Oatmeal Stout. By following this recipe exactly a PC gains a +10 equipment bonus to his Craft (Brewing) check to produce a batch of this excellent beverage. Producing a proper batch of this drink requires a successful Craft (Brewing) check DC 35. Each batch makes five (5) five-gallon kegs. Producing one batch costs 50 gp and requires 5 TUs to prepare. A finished batch is worth 500 gp (100 gp per keg). If the recipe is sold, traded or given away, even if it is copied first, the benefit is lost. If it is copied, the possessor of the copy gains no benefit. Perhaps is it just psychological, but working from a copy of the recipe seems to lack something.

You were possessed by the spirit of Artos Colburn, a paladin of Galvandt. The effects of this possession linger on. For six months from the date that this event is played, the PC experiences the following effects:

- The PC temporarily shifts in alignment, one step in the direction of LG. This shift will not cause a divine caster to move away from the allowed alignments for his chosen deity.
- Once per event, the PC may smite evil, as if he were a 5th level paladin.
